THE INVITATION

Help young people become leaders the world needs

We invite your organisation to partner with the International Children's Peace Network for ICPA 2026: a nine-day international youth experience in Delhi and Agra designed to build confidence, compassion, cultural understanding and practical leadership.

From 19 to 27 December 2026, approximately 120-150 young people aged 12-17, together with necessary guardians and an experienced delivery team, will take part in leadership, diplomacy, environmental action, creative expression, cultural exchange and service.

Your partnership can remove financial barriers, strengthen programme quality and give young people from different countries and cultural backgrounds the opportunity to learn with one another. In return, we will create an agreed platform for meaningful brand visibility, colleague engagement, youth voice and transparent impact reporting.

Our preferred corporate routes are £100,000 Principal Global Partnership and £50,000 Major Programme Partnership. We also offer flexible sponsorship and in-kind options to suit different objectives and budgets.

A partnership designed around shared value

- ☐ Visible commitment to youth opportunity, inclusion and global citizenship
- ☐ Purposeful employee participation through mentoring, speaking and skills-based volunteering
- ☐ Consent-led storytelling and carefully agreed recognition across ICPA communications
- ☐ A measurable impact framework covering reach, learning, engagement, action and legacy

THE OPPORTUNITY

More than a journey

ICPA 2026 is designed as an intensive leadership experience in which young people do not simply observe global issues; they practise how to respond to them.

WHO	WHAT	WHY IT MATTERS
120-150 young people	An international cohort aged 12-17	Young people learn across national, cultural and social boundaries.
Nine-day programme	Delhi and Agra, 19-27 December 2026	A structured journey from welcome and team building to action, recognition and legacy.
Global learning	Peace, leadership, education, creativity, environment and culture	Participants develop practical skills, values and confidence they can take back to their communities.
Safe participation	Guardians, safeguarding personnel and trained volunteers	Access is supported by proportionate welfare, supervision and consent arrangements.

The intended result is a network of young people better equipped to communicate, collaborate, resolve differences, act responsibly and lead positive change.

PROGRAMME FOUNDATIONS

Four pillars with one shared purpose

Every activity is connected to the International Children's Peace Network pillars and to the wider aim of developing informed, compassionate and active global citizens.

PEACE Diplomacy, dialogue, empathy, conflict resolution, youth parliament and a shared peace declaration.

EDUCATION Leadership, communication, media literacy, presentation, future skills, cultural learning and responsible global citizenship.

CREATIVITY Art, performance, international talent, storytelling and cultural expression that build confidence and connection.

ENVIRONMENT Organic farming, tree planting, sustainability learning and youth-led action connected to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

A fifth cross-cutting partnership area

Access, Inclusion and Safeguarding enables the four pillars to reach the young people who may benefit most. It can support financially disadvantaged participants, essential safeguarding and volunteer personnel, necessary parent or guardian travel, accessible participation and safe international mobility.

This is presented as an enabling partnership rather than a replacement for ICPN's four established pillars.

PARTNER VALUE

Visibility with meaning

ICPA partnerships are designed to create credible value for young people and participating organisations. Recognition is proportionate to investment and agreed in advance.

- Strategic recognition. Partner status across agreed event and campaign materials, with category or pillar wording confirmed in the partnership agreement.
- Flagship activation. Opportunity to help shape a suitable forum, workshop, challenge or programme moment connected to the partner's expertise.
- Leadership engagement. Appropriate invitations for senior representatives to participate in selected welcome, programme or Gala and Awards moments.
- Employee involvement. Mentoring, speaking, facilitation or professional insight, subject to safeguarding, suitability and programme requirements.
- Ethical storytelling. Consent-led participant reflections, imagery and impact stories in accordance with child safeguarding and media protocols.
- Impact reporting. Post-programme reporting covering agreed measures, reach, activities, participant feedback and legacy actions.

All brand use, media activity, hospitality, speaking roles and participant engagement remain subject to written agreement, safeguarding and final delivery arrangements.

MEASURABLE SOCIAL IMPACT

A clear line from investment to legacy

We will agree realistic measures with each major partner so that the partnership can be understood, communicated and improved.

MEASURE	ILLUSTRATIVE EVIDENCE
Reach	Participants, countries, communities and supported places represented.
Learning	Participant reflections and feedback on confidence, communication, teamwork and global understanding.
Engagement	Sessions, mentors, volunteer hours, activities and participation.
Action	Youth presentations, peace commitments, SDG projects, creative work and environmental activity.
Legacy	Follow-up participation, youth ambassador activity, community action and selected consent-led stories.

Safeguarding and responsible partnership

Young people's welfare comes first. Participation, supervision, travel support, mentoring, filming, photography and storytelling will operate under appropriate safeguarding, consent, privacy and risk-management arrangements. Partner activity will be agreed only where it supports a safe and positive youth experience.

2	Agree scope	Confirm investment, in-kind contributions, benefits, activation, safeguarding and reporting.
